Introduction and Executive Summary

Michael Dyson Associates Limited (“MDA”) is a multi-disciplinary housing consultancy undertaking a varied range of commissions in the Construction Industry. Barrow Borough Council (BBC) invited tenders for the provision of a 100% Stock Condition Survey to which MDA responded with a fee bid and Method Statement.

Following acceptance of the tender submission, MDA was supplied with a copy of BBC’s full asset register. Leasehold properties were excluded from the survey process. The free hold stock consists of 2,668 dwellings and 260 blocks.

The fieldwork period commenced on 4th March 2019 and ran until 19th July 2019. Surveys were completed to 2,338 dwellings (88%). 258 blocks were surveyed. The figures and results in this report are based on the survey data which has been extrapolated to the un-surveyed assets to provide a full picture of stock.

Decent Homes Standard repairs have been identified, just 1 property was found to be failing the standard; 0.04% of the total stock.

HHSRS		Disrepair		Modern Facilities		Thermal Comfort		Overall Total
Nr	%	Nr	%	Nr	Nr	%	Nr	%	Nr
0	0.00%	1	0.04%	0	0	0.00%	0	0.04%	1

Catch-up repair costs were identified throughout the survey and were found to total £726,552, an average of £27 per property.

The overall Planned Maintenance costs over the 30 year business planning period are £84,857,759 which equates to an average of £31,805 per property. This can be further broken down to an average of £1,060 per property per year. MDA typically expects the average property cost for social housing over a 30-year period to range between £25-30k per property across the UK, and the average 30-year cost, per property, for BBC sits slightly outside the upper limit of this banding.

The Summary of All Costs table identifies catch up repairs, Planned Maintenance Works, Un-accounted Decent Homes costs (costs attributed to failures which do not form part of planned maintenance programmes), Maintenance, Responsive Repairs, Void Costs and an allowance for Preliminaries, Contingencies and Professional Fees. Preliminaries, Fees and Contingencies have been assigned to catch up repairs, planned maintenance and unaccounted Decent Homes costs at 10%, 8% and 3% respectively.

When summarising all costs for the properties, the figure currently stands at a total of £173,448,513 over the 30 year period, an average of £65,011 per property. This can be further broken down to an average of £2,167 per property, per year.

Repair and replacement costs for garage blocks total £2,763,866 over the 30-year period; these costs are over and above the totals listed above.

Repair and replacement costs for the five community centres maintained by BBC total £147,925 over the 30-year period; these costs are also over and above the totals listed above.

1. Methodology

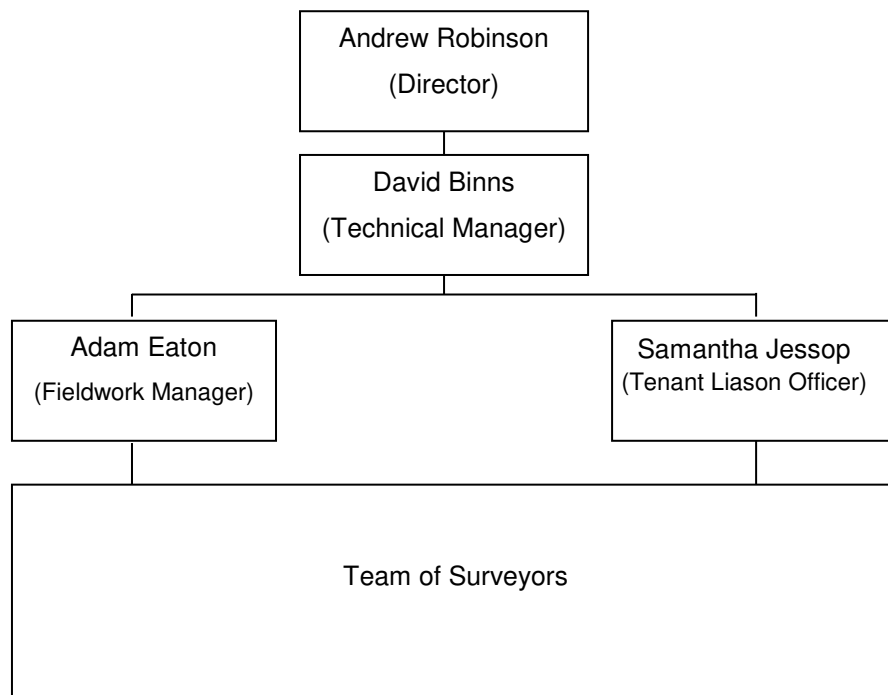

1.1 The Survey Team

The survey was undertaken by the Asset Management Team within MDA which specialises in large scale condition surveys in both the public and private sector. Typical surveys include the inspection of properties and collection of data to enable the production of forward forecast costs in relation to both Planned Maintenance and Catch Up Repairs. Additionally, reporting on failure levels against the current Decent Homes Standard and provision of data detailing the energy efficiency of surveyed properties is a significant part of the Team's core activity.

The Team for this commission was headed by David Binns - Technical Manager, Adam Eaton – Fieldwork Manager and a team of surveyors directly employed by MDA.

The surveyors have considerable experience in undertaking stock condition surveys and were fully briefed on the requirements of the survey before any inspections were carried out on site

Below is an organisation chart, which illustrates the overall management of the stock condition survey, undertaken by MDA.

1.2 Data Capture

BBC use the Civica Keystone asset management system to collect and store information about their stock. At the outset of the commission, MDA worked with BBC to create a suitable component configuration and survey form within the Keystone asset management system. MDA supplied Windows tablet computers which were remotely connected to the live, BBC keystone database. Surveys were completed on the tablets with the survey data being uploaded via secure WiFi connection to the BBC database.

1.3 Quality Control

Following the agreement of the survey form a comprehensive briefing of all surveyors took place prior to the commencement of the main project, attended by Les Davies from BBC. Test surveys and validation exercises, which involved repeat visits to surveyed properties, were undertaken on site by MDA's fieldwork management team. These survey checks included (but were not limited to):

- Confirmation of visit by MDA surveyor.
- Checks on the accuracy of recorded data.
- Benchmarking of subjective decision making undertaken by the surveyors.
- Cross-checking of surveyed properties against each other for comparisons.

Furthermore, MDA has undertaken a desktop check of the survey data, which included:

- Building components with unexpectedly large or small quantities.
- An explanation where a component has vastly exceeded or failed to meet its expected lifespan.
- An explanation for apparently contradictory survey data.
- Comparison against stock condition data from other surveys.

Throughout the course of the fieldwork the MDA fieldwork management team undertook quality inspections on 238 properties, equating to a % of all properties surveyed. During these quality inspections no significant non-conformances were noted. On completion of the surveys 100% of the survey data was reviewed at desktop.

1.4 Doorstep Strategy

Individual residents were notified of the surveys in advance and all surveyors carried ID Badges and Letters of Authority signed by BBC.

MDA agreed lines of communication before commencement of the survey, which allowed for reporting of complaints, health and safety issues, or tenant related issues. Protocols were established which allowed for issues to be resolved quickly on site where possible, or by the Director responsible at MDA where more appropriate. In the event no such issues arose.

MDA operates a strict Code of Conduct which is to be followed by all members of its survey team in respect of appearance, courtesy and notification. This policy is closely monitored at all stages of any project to ensure that the highest levels of client and resident care are maintained.

2. Investment Categories

The guidance to the most recent version of the Cost Generation Model issued by, what was, the Department of Communities and Local Government (DCLG), describes a number of investment categories used for the pricing of housing stock maintenance over a given business planning period, and these are the categories that have been adopted for the purposes of this Report:-

2.1 Catch-up Repairs

These are the backlog of repairs needed to make good observable defects in a property. They include repairs and replacements outstanding at the point of survey which ought more properly to have been done in the past under cyclical or responsive repairs or planned maintenance. In carrying out the repair/replacement the objective is to restore the element to its original condition and work should be undertaken on a like for like basis.

2.2 Planned Maintenance

These costs cover replacements/major overhauls over a 30 business planning period (the assumption being that the stock should be retained in the condition achieved by completing the catch-up repairs). This will be work normally undertaken as elements reach the end of their expected life. Information on future major work should be specified by the year in which it is judged to be required. In undertaking major work, replacement elements should be the same or to an equivalent standard as those already in place. However, in some cases it is impractical to replace like for like and some element of upgrading may be appropriate in carrying out end-of-lifetime works (e.g. replacing under floor central heating with a gas-fired boiler and radiator system, or metal single glazed casement windows with upvc double-glazed windows).

Planned maintenance costs do not include for any mechanical and electrical items over and above domestic and communal boilers.

2.3 Cyclical Maintenance

This covers cyclical work on an annual or longer-term cycle. It includes activities such as servicing central heating, cutting grassed areas or repainting. The extent of future maintenance can be determined by best practice and should take into account the impact of the nature of future major repairs and any improvements that are planned.

In the case of BBC cyclical costs include: external painting, communal staircase painting, sheltered properties staircase painting, gas servicing, lift maintenance, fire equipment and alarm services, door entry system servicing and communal boiler servicing.

2.4 Responsive Repairs

This kind of repair centres on day-to-day “call out” demand and work carried out to properties. The need to undertake this type of work can be derived from records of responsive repairs undertaken in the past. The extent to which they are a function of the current condition of the stock and generated by a build-up of repairs, or are a function of current misuse, needs to be identified. Future need for such repairs may be reduced once backlogs have been dealt with or management practices changed.

2.5 Void Repairs

Void repairs are defined as costs allocated to maintain properties for the and duration of a property being void and work required to make it fit for habitation. This is usually a set figure per year and based on the number of voids over the financial year.

2.6 Decent Homes Standard – Unaccounted Costs

The Decent Homes Standard has four criteria:

- Does the dwelling have any Category 1 HHSRS hazards?
- Is the dwelling in a reasonable state of repair?
- Has the dwelling reasonably modern facilities and services?
- Does the dwelling have an efficient heating system and effective insulation levels?

MDA were instructed to assess costs related to incidences of failure and potential failure against the Decent Homes Standard. The costs to rectify Decent Homes failures are generally accounted for within Planned maintenance, however some costs fall outside this, including the reconfiguration of rooms and the installation of loft and cavity wall insulation.

2.7 Garage Block Repairs and Maintenance Costs

BBC has a number of separate garage blocks within its stock for which they are responsible for the repair and maintenance. These blocks were all surveyed and the costs within this category represent the total immediate cost of carrying out catch-up repairs and on-going planned maintenance to these garages.

These costs are over and above the residential totals listed in the Summary of All Costs table and appear “below the line”.

2.8 Community Centre Repairs and Maintenance Costs

BBC has four community centres within its stock for which they are responsible for the repair and maintenance. These buildings were surveyed and the costs within this category represent the total immediate cost of carrying out catch-up repairs and on-going planned maintenance to these buildings.

These costs are over and above the residential totals listed in the Summary of All Costs table and appear “below the line”.

3. Stock Summary

3.1 Archetype Breakdown

Before the fieldwork commenced MDA ratified the asset register sent by BBC to ensure consistency, remove any duplicates and cleanse data fields to ensure that it could be used efficiently within the Codeman system.

Once the ratification had been complete, MDA split the properties into Property Archetypes. These archetypes allow properties to be grouped together based on their construction and build type.

The table below shows the breakdown of properties within the BBC stock.

Property Type	Total	% of Stock
Block	260	8.88%
Bungalow End-Terrace	25	0.85%
Bungalow Mid-Terrace	73	2.49%
Bungalow Semi-Detached	59	2.02%
Flat 1st Floor	561	19.16%
Flat 2nd Floor	105	3.59%
Flat Ground Floor	585	19.98%
House End-Terrace	370	12.64%
House Mid-Terrace	636	21.72%
House Semi-Detached	254	8.67%
Grand Total	2,928	100.00%

Houses of various types predominate at 43% of the stock. The most common single property type is Mid-Terrace houses at 22%. End –terrace bungalows are the least prevalent property type with less than 1% of the total stock.

Upon completion of the fieldwork MDA had successfully surveyed 2,338 (88%) of the 2,668 properties in the BBC stock. The table below shows the breakdown of properties again together with the numbers surveyed within each archetype:

Property Type	Grand Total	% of Stock	Surveyed	% Surveyed
Block	260	8.88%	258	99.23%
Bungalow End-Terrace	25	0.85%	24	96.00%
Bungalow Mid-Terrace	73	2.49%	70	95.89%
Bungalow Semi-Detached	59	2.02%	58	98.31%
Flat 1st Floor	561	19.16%	471	83.96%
Flat 2nd Floor	105	3.59%	89	84.76%
Flat Ground Floor	585	19.98%	545	93.16%
House End-Terrace	370	12.64%	322	87.03%
House Mid-Terrace	636	21.72%	548	86.16%
House Semi-Detached	254	8.67%	211	83.07%
Grand Total	2,928	100.00%	2596	88.66%

The table above shows that MDA achieved an 88.6% survey sample across the stock (including blocks). The dwelling type with the highest percentage of surveys achieved was Bungalow – Semi Detached with 98% of the properties surveyed.

The archetype with the lowest percentage of surveys was House – Semi detached with only 83% of this type receiving a survey; surveyors had particular difficulty gaining access to properties within these blocks, regardless of the time of day they were visited.

4. Survey Results

4.1 Overall Investment of the Housing Stock

The greatest cost liability lies within Roofs with almost £30M of investment identified over the 30-year period. The highest costs are in years 26-30 with over £5M required. The 'roofs' element for the purpose of this report includes: roof coverings and roof structure.

Kitchens present the second highest cost liability with a total cost of £11.3M over the 30-year period. The biggest peak is in Years 11 to 15 with over £2.9M required in this period.

Elements in communal areas of block account for the third highest cost liability with almost £8.2M required.

Electrics also represents a significant cost liability over the 30-year period, with almost £7.4M required overall, an average of £247k every year over the period.

Bathroom costs peak in years 21 to 25 at over £2.1M. Initial costs, over the first five years, are low with just £227k of investment required.

Heating Boilers and Heating Distribution represent a noteworthy cost within the planned maintenance profile with a combined expenditure of £6.8M required over the 30-year period, equating to nearly 8% of the total.

A table of planned maintenance renewals is contained within Appendix A.

4.2 Catch-up Repair Costs

As part of this commission MDA identified catch-up repairs. These are described as components that were found to require maintenance in order to bring them up to a state of repair that would enable them to remain in serviceable condition until their expected replacement year.

It should be noted that many repairs may have been rectified since MDA completed the surveys on-site – catch-up repairs arise and are rectified on an almost daily basis and the figures below should be taken as a guide to the potential required repair costs to the BBC stock at any point in time.

Upon completion of the surveys and the extrapolation of the survey results it was found to be £726,552 of catch-up repairs outstanding to the BBC stock, an average of just £272 per property. The table below shows a breakdown of catch-up repair costs by component.

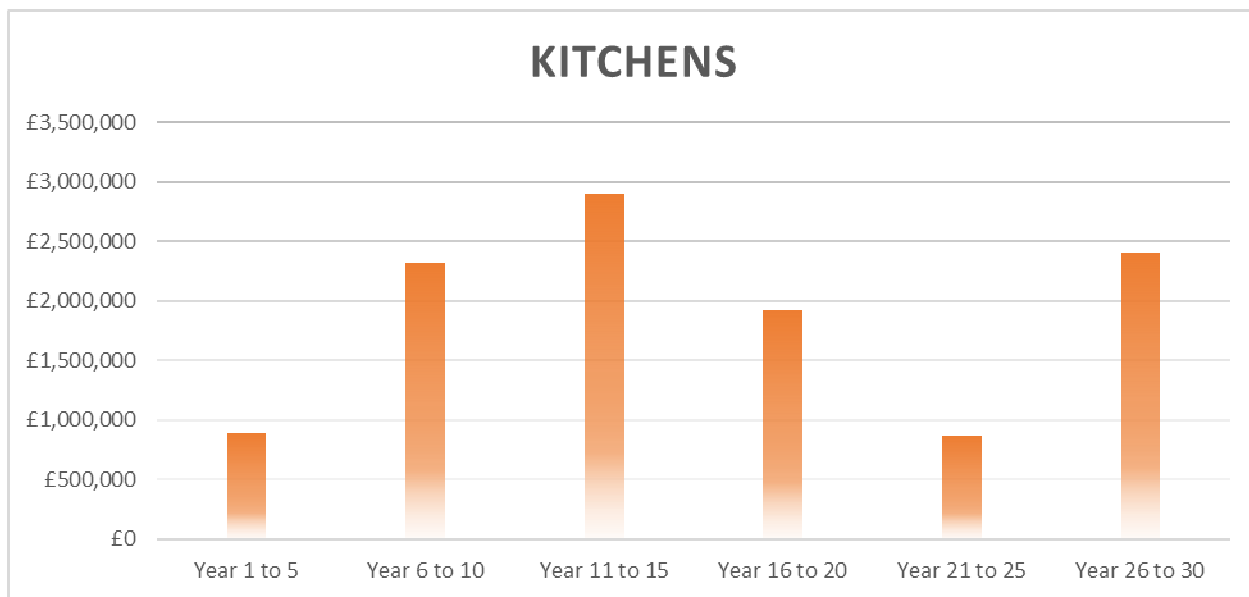

Element	Year 1
Windows	£175,000
Electrics	£164,950
Roofs	£128,655
Walls	£104,938
Boundaries / External Curtilage	£32,097
Kitchens	£29,763
Doors	£27,150
Bathrooms	£23,222
Heating & Hot Water	£22,824
External Stores	£7,600
Safety & Security	£6,753
Plumbing	£3,600
Communals	£0
Garage	£0
Lintels & Cills	£0
Grand Total	£726,552

As the table above shows, the highest repair costs were found to be in relation to windows with £175k of repairs in total being identified, 24% of the total repair costs. Repairs to electrical systems were also significant accounting for almost 23% of the total repair cost.

A full table of catch-up repairs showing each component in detail can be found in Appendix A.

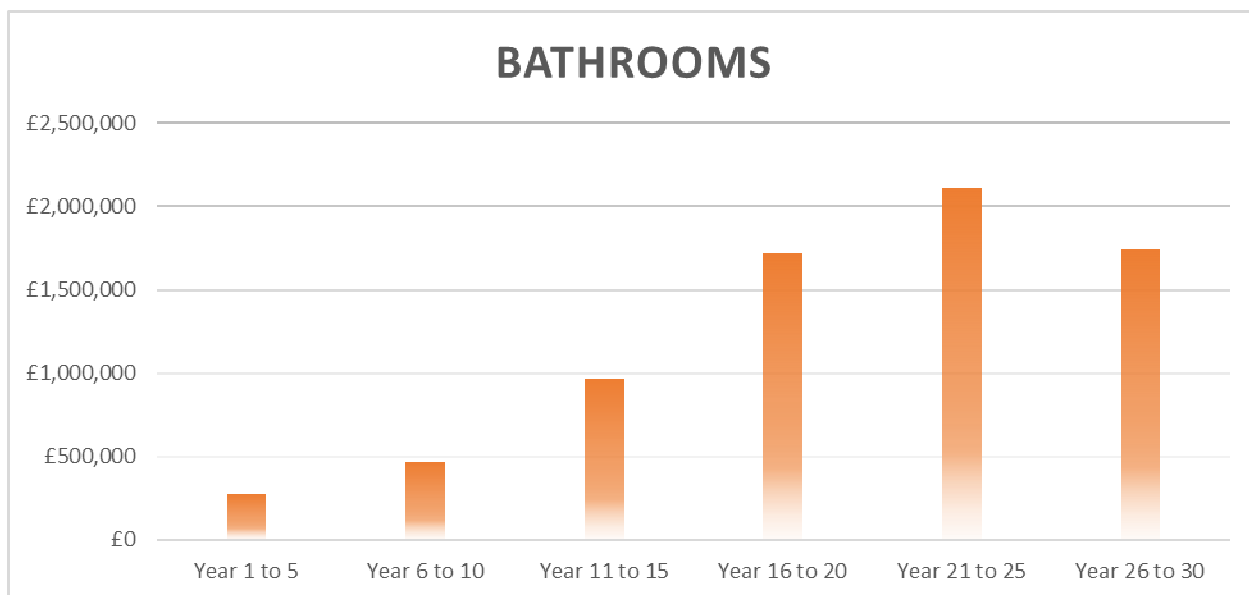

4.3 Planned Maintenance – Key Components

To give an indication of future investment requirements we provide below a number of component-specific cost/time profiles.

Element	Years 1-5	Years 6 to 10	Years 11 to 15	Years 16 to 20	Years 21 to 25	Years 26 to 30
Kitchen	£891,582	£2,323,828	£2,904,353	£1,920,329	£863,966	£2,403,395

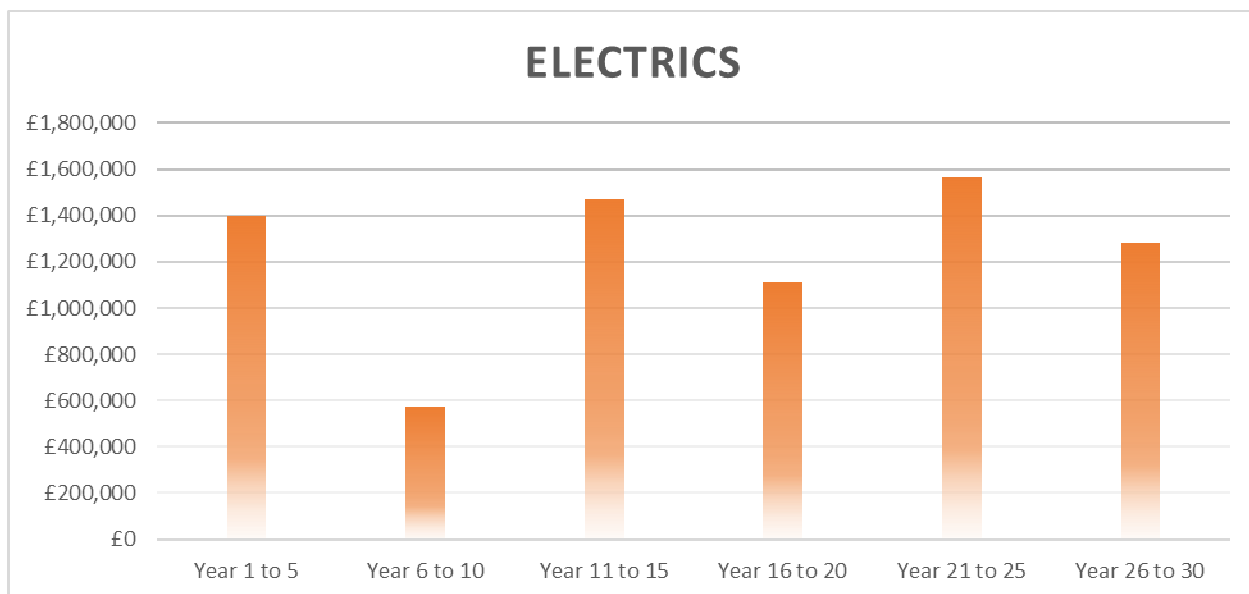

It can be seen from the graph above that an increasing investment is required to be made in kitchens over the coming years, with a peak of £2.9M required in years 11 to 15. This would indicate that the majority of kitchens are between 5 and 10 years old as kitchens have a 20-year lifecycle.

Element	Years 1-5	Years 6 to 10	Years 11 to 15	Years 16 to 20	Years 21 to 25	Years 26 to 30
Bathroom	£277,305	£463,816	£964,263	£1,720,040	£2,109,592	£1,744,286

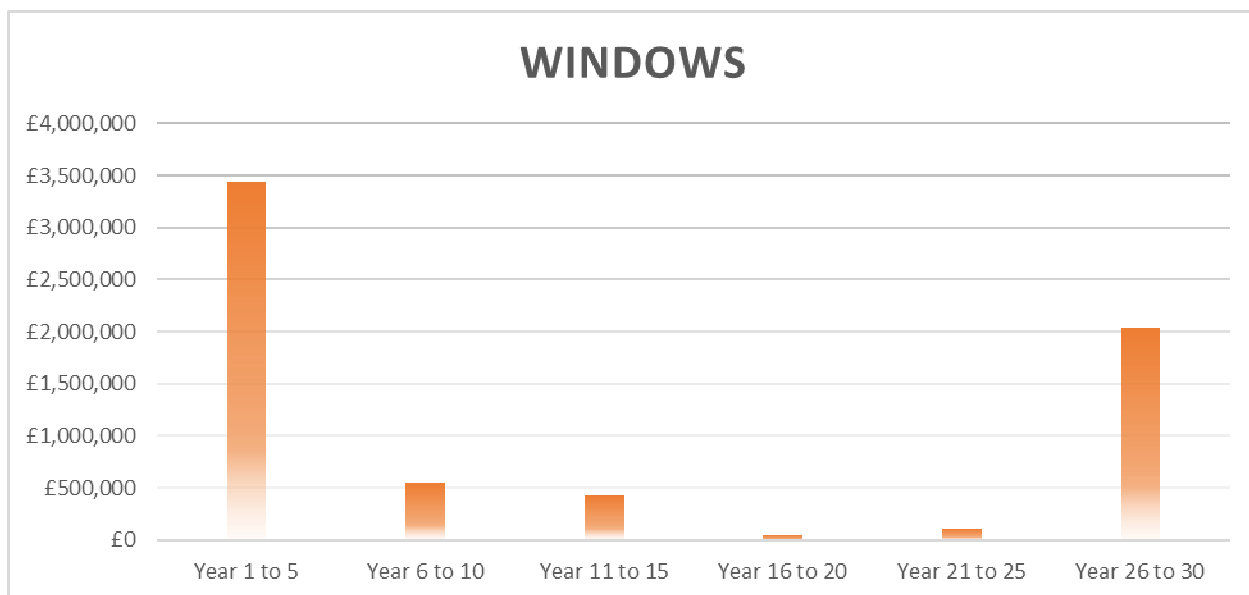

The graph shows that there is an increasing investment requirement over the 30 years for costs associated with bathrooms. Initial investment is low, with just £277k required. Thereafter, the required investment rises to a peak of £2.1M in years 21 to 25.

Bathrooms have a life expectancy of 30 years therefore, there are no secondary replacements identified within the 30 year cost profile.

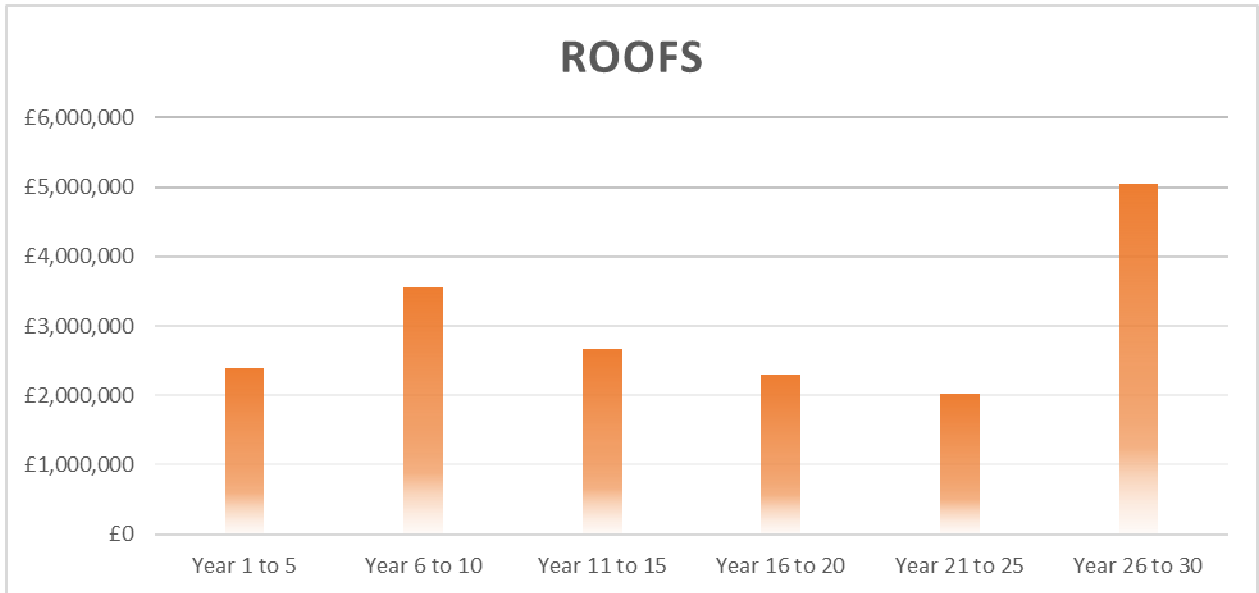

Element	Years 1-5	Years 6 to 10	Years 11 to 15	Years 16 to 20	Years 21 to 25	Years 26 to 30
Electrics	£1,401,102	£571,436	£1,468,659	£1,110,470	£1,563,933	£1,280,598

The graph above shows a fluctuating investment for electrical items over the 30-year period. The costs above are an indicator only based on a visual assessment and actual renewal requirements should be based on the relevant accredited operative testing the electrical wiring and consumer units of a property on a periodical basis.

Element	Years 1-5	Years 6 to 10	Years 11 to 15	Years 16 to 20	Years 21 to 25	Years 26 to 30
Windows	£3,442,738	£553,658	£426,479	£42,774	£104,321	£2,043,065

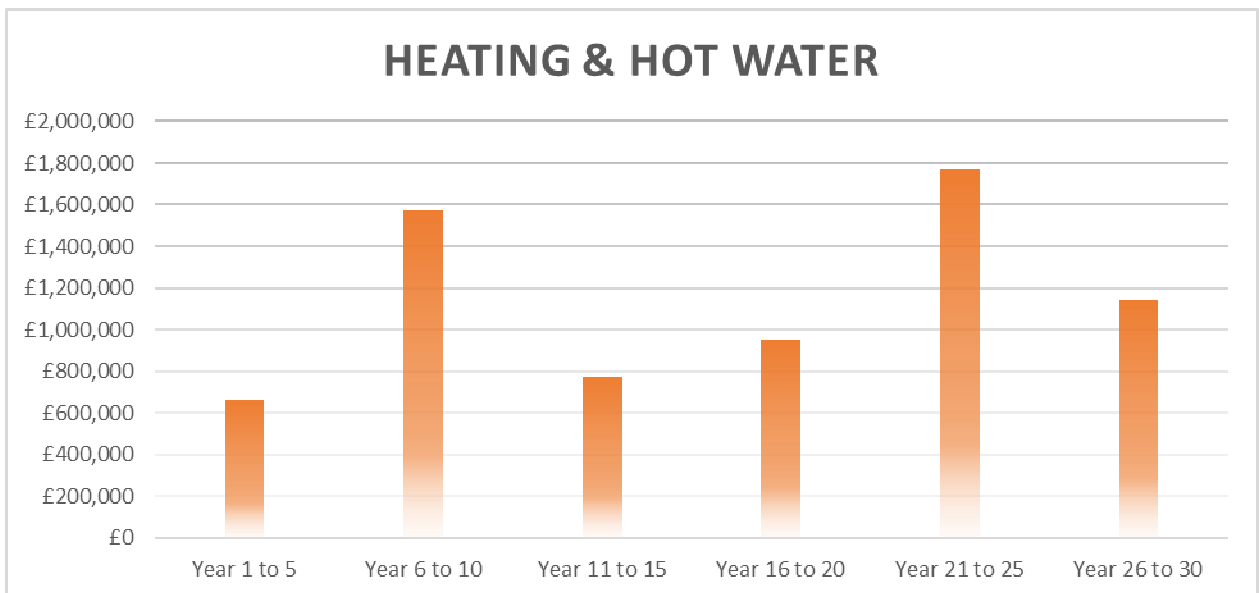

The investment required for replacement windows across has no discernible pattern. Investment in the next five years is very high with almost £3.5M required, 52% of the total investment. Just over £2M, 30% of the total investment is identified in years 26 to 30. This would indicate that a current window renewal process is on-going, with 30% of the stock having replacement windows already and a further 52% still to be completed.

Element	Years 1-5	Years 6 to 10	Years 11 to 15	Years 16 to 20	Years 21 to 25	Years 26 to 30
Roofs	£2,386,712	£3,558,359	£2,668,345	£2,294,996	£2,024,163	£5,051,130

Roof replacements are usually carried out on an ad-hoc basis as required which is why the profile of the graph above shows no real consistency or pattern. However, the graph above indicates a rising requirement over the first ten years to a peak of £3.55M in years 6 to 10. Costs then drop to a low of £2M in years 21 to 25 before rising significantly to over £5M in years 26 to 30.

It should be noted that properties built between 1970-1990 show significant signs of disrepair to the roof structure due to porous tiles, aged and perished felt and water ingress. Properties in the affected streets require further intrusive investigation to corroborate this understanding. The results of the additional surveys will be reported directly to BBC for reference.

Element	Years 1-5	Years 6 to 10	Years 11 to 15	Years 16 to 20	Years 21 to 25	Years 26 to 30
Heating & Hot Water	£661,260	£1,571,711	£770,530	£953,187	£1,766,049	£1,143,474

The graph above shows replacement costs for both boilers and heating distribution. The repeated pattern over the 30 years indicates secondary boiler replacements; boilers have a 15-year lifecycle. The increased costs in the latter half of the 30-year period are in relation to heating distribution renewals.

5. Blocks - External and Communal Areas

As part of the stock condition survey, surveys were carried out to the external envelope and internal communal areas of blocks within the BBC stock. The costs for the replacing any element associated with these areas are included in the cost profiles shown below, however for the ease of separation these costs are also presented separately below.

There are 260 blocks within the BBC stock and the cost tables below indicate the expected repair and replacement costs of the elements found within these blocks.

Element	Year 1
Main Roof Covering	£715
Secondary Roof Covering	£130
Fascia's and Bargeboard	£272
Soffit	£525
Gutter	£135
Downpipes	£270
Window	£600
Main Door	£50
Rear Door	£50
Primary Wall Finish	£6,275
Secondary Wall Finish	£655
Chimney Finish	£180
Soil and Vent Pipe	£300
Front Boundary Walls and Fences	£850
Rear Boundary Walls and Fences	£2,350
Front Path	£3,485
Rear Path	£3,835
External Store - Roof	£2
External Store - Doors	£600
External Store - Walls	£227
Communal Windows	£350
Communal Main Door	£2
Communal Decorations	£680
Grand Total	£22,538

The table above shows the repair costs that were found throughout the blocks. As expected, the element with the highest repair cost was found to be Primary wall finish with £6,275 of costs expected. Front and rear paths also present a significant repair cost with £7,320 of repairs in total being found. The average catch up repair cost per block is less than £80 per block.

The repair and replacement costs shown above include leasehold properties. E.g. The window cost will account for all the windows within the block, and not just windows that are associated with the properties owned by BBC.

The table above shows the planned maintenance cost profile for the external envelope and internal communal areas of the blocks. Windows have the highest replacement cost over the 30 year period with over £2.8M of costs required. Primary wall finish also represents a significant cost with a total cost of £2,208,683 required over the 30 year period, equivalent to £7,804 per block.

Main Roof coverings have a just less than £2M of costs deemed to be required. The majority of roof coverings to blocks were still original and costs over the next 10 years have been accounted for to replace these. Roof coverings at Ewan Close, Craven Park Court, Tay Court and Anson Street were found to need replacing in the near future.

A running cost that is not considered as part of the stock condition survey or energy survey is the lighting to the communal areas within the blocks and exterior of the blocks themselves. MDA would recommend that all internal and external block lighting is replaced with the equivalent LED replacement where possible and PIR sensors are also fitted in communal areas.

6. Housing, Health & Safety Rating System

The Housing Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS) is the government's approach to the evaluation of the potential risk to health and safety from any deficiencies identified in properties. The HHSRS was introduced in April 2006 as part of the implementation of Part 1 of the Housing Act 2004; and the underlying principle of this is that any residential premises should provide a safe and healthy environment for any potential occupier or visitor.

The HHSRS uses judgements made by surveyors based on an inspection of the dwelling, to generate a numerical score. To generate the score the surveyor must make two judgements on each hazard;

- Likelihood over the next 12 months of an occurrence which could result in harm to a member of the vulnerable age group
- The range of potential outcomes from such an occurrence

This enables the comparison of the severity of a threat that is very likely to occur but will result in a minor outcome against that of a threat which is very unlikely to occur but will have a major outcome. It also differentiates between similar hazards where the likelihood may be the same but the outcome very different.

Within the HHSRS are 29 hazards, which are grouped into Hazard Profiles, these are as follows:

A PHYSIOLOGICAL REQUIREMENTS

1. Damp and Mould Growth
2. Excess Cold
3. Excess Heat
4. Asbestos (and MMF)
5. Biocides
6. Carbon Monoxide and fuel combustion products
7. Lead
8. Radiation
9. Uncombusted fuel gas
10. Volatile organic compounds

B PSYCHOLOGICAL REQUIREMENTS

11. Crowding and space
12. Entry by intruders
13. Lighting
14. Noise

C PROTECTION AGAINST INFECTION

15. Domestic hygiene, pests and refuse
16. Food safety
17. Personal hygiene, sanitation and drainage
18. Water supply for domestic purposes

D PROTECTION AGAINST ACCIDENTS

19. Falls associated with baths etc
20. Falls on the level
21. Falls associated with stairs and steps
22. Falls between levels
23. Electric Hazards
24. Fire
25. Hot surfaces and materials

Collisions, Cuts and Strains

26. Collision and entrapment
27. Explosions
28. Ergonomics
29. Structural collapse and failing elements

6.1 Category 1 Hazards

Throughout the fieldwork, MDA found 32 Category 1 hazards in 29 properties. The table below shows the breakdown of hazard types:

	Count of Hazard
Damp and mould growth	4
Domestic pests and refuse	1
Electrical hazards	1
Entry by intruder	1
Falling elements	1
Falls between levels	2
Falls on level surfaces	6
Falls on stairs	4
Flames and hot surfaces	4
Structural collapse and falling elements	8
Grand Total	32

Category 1 hazard information was passed on to BBC as and when they were found on-site. This allowed the hazard to be resolved accordingly and remove any risk associated with it.

BBC successfully removed or mitigated the category 1 hazards found throughout the fieldwork meaning that currently, there are no outstanding Category 1 hazards remaining identified during this commission.

7. Decent Homes Standard

7.1 The Decent Homes Standard

The Decent Homes Standard was initially comprised of four criteria which had to be met in order for a residential property to be “decent”:-

- Criterion A: Fitness Standard
- Criterion B: it is in a reasonable state of repair
- Criterion C: it has reasonably modern facilities and services
- Criterion D: it provides a reasonable degree of thermal comfort

Criterion A of the old Decency Standard referred to Statutory Fitness as laid down within Section 6.04 of the Housing Act 1985 (Amended Local Government and Housing Acts 1989). However with the implementation of Part 1 of the Housing Act 2004 the terms of reference have been amended to reflect the Housing Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS); although it should be noted HHSRS is a risk assessment procedure and does not actually set a standard.

It should be noted that component life times and catch-up repairs have a significant impact upon the ever-changing level of “decency” within any housing stock. At any given time a snap shot of decency may include for items, which are already covered by programmed component renewals therefore discounting the need for any additional level of expenditure in this regard.

We have assessed the housing stock under each of the four parts of the standard and it should be noted that there is a level of double counting even within the standard itself.

HHSRS		Disrepair		Modern Facilities		Thermal Comfort		Overall Total
Nr	%	Nr	%	Nr	%	Nr	%	Nr	%
0	0.00%	1	0.04%	0	0.00%	0	0.00%	1	0.04%

It should be noted that the total figure in the table above is not a cumulative amount from the four listed criteria. The cumulative total represents the total number of properties failing the Decent Homes Standard, whereas the amounts per criteria represent the properties failing the Standard under each individual criterion. As it is possible for a property to fail on more than one criterion we would normally expect the total number of properties failing to be less than the sum total of the four criteria.

In the case of BBC’s stock we note that there are no properties currently failing under the HHSRS criterion.

Under the disrepair criteria (Criterion B of the standard) there is just 1 property currently failing. The property is failing on account of a boiler which is defined as both old and in poor condition.

Criterion C of Decent Homes refers to modernity and identifies 6 criteria to test the dwelling stock. These are “kitchen layout, kitchen age, bathroom location, bathroom age, noise insulation and adequacy of communal areas”. A property has to fail 3 of the 6 tests in order to fail on its own merit. Under this section there were no failures found within the stock. A number of individual incidences of failures have been found but these have not resulted in any problems failing the standard overall.

The final part of the Decent Homes Standard is Criterion D Thermal Comfort. It must be noted that the level of insulation required to meet Criterion D of Decent Homes is significantly lower than current Building Regulations. For a property with gas fired central heating system it is only necessary for the property to have 50 mm of loft insulation or cavity fill insulation in order to pass the standard.

No properties fail under thermal comfort. These will not necessarily correspond with the properties identified as having a lower SAP rating for the reasons already described above.

There are no reportable Decent Homes failure costs to account for; the cost for the property failing under Part B is already accounted for within the overall 30-year cost profile.

8. RdSAP Energy Surveys

As part of this survey MDA were asked to collect energy data in order to provide an accurate assessment of the average energy rating for the stock. MDA carried out RdSAP surveys to all properties where a stock condition survey was completed.

BBC is required to submit annual regulatory statutory returns to 'Housemark', (an organisation designed to help the social housing sector to improve performance and improve value for money). Currently, the reported average SAP at 'Housemark' rating for social landlords within the UK is 73.2. Therefore, the average noted in the table above is slightly below the 'Housemark' average.

The table above shows the average SAP rating within each area of the BBC stock. 'Vulcan' has the lowest average SAP rating with just 51.5. The 'Town Centre' has the highest, with 71.28.

9. Homes Fit for Human Habitation Act

The Act applies to the social and private rented sectors and makes it clear that landlords must ensure that their property, including any common parts of the building, is fit for human habitation at the beginning of the tenancy and throughout.

To achieve that, landlords will need to make sure that their property is free of hazards which are so serious that the dwelling is not reasonably suitable for occupation in that condition.

The courts will decide whether a property is fit for human habitation by considering the matters set out in section 10 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985. These are whether:

- the building has been neglected and is in a bad condition
- the building is unstable
- there's a serious problem with damp
- it has an unsafe layout
- there's not enough natural light
- there's not enough ventilation
- there is a problem with the supply of hot and cold water
- there are problems with the drainage or the lavatories
- it's difficult to prepare and cook food or wash up
- or any of the 29 hazards set out in the Housing Health and Safety (England) Regulations 2005

The initial assessment of compliance with the act sits separately from the HHSRS assessment. Courts can request that a HHSRS assessment is carried out, following the potential non-compliance of one of the initial requirements.

As part of this commission, MDA has not specifically assessed the compliance level of the initial hazard types but has carried out a complete HHSRS assessment as part of the survey and, as noted previously in the report, BBC has no outstanding CAT1 HHSRS hazards within the stock.

10. Garage Blocks

As part of this commission MDA also carried out surveys to the garage blocks for which BBC are responsible, BBC has a total of 504 garages.

As the table below shows there is a total of £248,955 of catch up repair costs found to be required, an average of £494 per garage.

The total planned maintenance costs for the garage sites over the 30 years totals £2,514,910, an average of £4,989 per garage or £166 per garage per year. The highest costs were found to be in relation to the replacement of garage walls.

11. Community Centres

As part of this commission MDA also carried out surveys to the community centres for which BBC are responsible. BBC has five community centres and throughout the course of the fieldwork MDA surveyed each individually.

As the table below shows there is a total of £23,600 of catch up repair costs found to be required. The largest costs relate to windows with £15,750 of repairs noted for this element.

Element	Catchup Repair Costs
Doors	£3,750

The table below shows the overall planned maintenance costs for the community centres over a 30-year period.

The total planned maintenance costs for the community centres over the 30 years totals £124,325, an average of £24,865 per centre. The highest costs were found to be in relation to the replacement of the walls at the centres with almost 16% of the total 30-year costs being accounted for in this element.

12. Cost Summary and Conclusion

Schedules of Rates used to compile this report were provided by MDA and then reviewed and agreed by BBC.

The Summary of All Costs table (Appendix A) identifies Planned Maintenance Works, Un-accounted Decent Homes costs (costs attributed to failures which do not form part of planned maintenance programmes), Cyclical, Responsive Repairs, Void Costs and an allowance for Preliminaries, Contingencies and Professional Fees.

There is no allowance for VAT within any of the costs provided as part of this Report.

Decent Homes Standard repairs have been identified, just 1 property was found to be failing the standard; 0.04% of the total stock.

Planned works covers replacement/major overhaul up to 30 years and includes the key components of a dwelling, and again a breakdown of these elements and costs can be found in Appendix A.

Catch-up repair costs were identified throughout the survey and were found to total £726,552, an average of £272 per property.

The overall Planned Maintenance costs over the 30 year business planning period are £84,857,759 which equates to an average of £31,805 per property. This can be further broken down to an average of £1,060 per property per year. MDA typically expects the average property cost for social housing over a 30-year period to range between £25-30k per property across the UK, and the average 30-year cost, per property, for the BBC sits outside the upper limit of this banding.

The Summary of All Costs table identifies Planned Maintenance Works, Un-accounted Decent Homes costs (costs attributed to failures which do not form part of planned maintenance programmes), Cyclical, Responsive Repairs, Void Costs and an allowance for Preliminaries, Contingencies and Professional Fees. Preliminaries, Fees and Contingencies have been assigned to catch up repairs, planned maintenance and unaccounted Decent Homes costs at 10%, 8% and 3% respectively.

When summarising all costs for the properties, which includes Catch-up repair costs, Planned Maintenance Costs, Unaccounted Decent Homes Costs, Cyclical, Responsive Repair and Void Costs, along with Preliminaries, Fees and Contingencies the figure currently stands at a total of £173,448,513 over the 30 year period, an average of £65,011 per property. This can be further broken down to an average of £2,167 per property, per year.

Repair and replacement costs for garage blocks total £2,763,866 over the 30-year period; these costs are over and above the totals listed above.

Repair and replacement costs for the five community centres maintained by BBC total £147,925 over the 30-year period; these costs are also over and above the totals listed above.

BBC have on-going investment programmes for their stock, which is evident in the on-going investment requirement in current years as works programmes are completed. Some component renewal programmes are on-going (such as windows) and others are planned over the next five years.
